Comment: The following report refers to a copy of the 6 april 1948 issue of Tien Len(Forward), received in this office.

- The following information is given in the paper: Title: Tien Len (Forward), 1. propaganda organ of the Youth Section at Udon Siam. Date: 6 April 1948. sale at "Thai May" (apparently a bookshop) in Udon. For subscriptions and correspondence address the "Cultural Committee of the Youth Section" (Ban Ván-Hón Thanh-Nieh). No name of editor is given.
- 2. The following are paraphrased summaries of articles in this issue of the paper:
  - a. "Bao Dai--The Unfilial Son" (Bao Dai--dua con bat hieu!!), Monarchy is obsolete and the history of Bao Dai's ancestors is inglorious. Bao Dai himself was the puppet of the French and the Japanese and was spoiled and exploited by them; it is inconceivable that he can nelp us in our fight for independence. He is opposed to revolution, democracy and peace 25X1A and wants to create a civil war in Indocnina. But the wheel of peace and democracy will crush him. comment: This article, in the original Annamese, gives the impression of being quite violent in tone. It is in complete contrast to the tone of Ho Chi Minh's dignified and respectful utterances regarding Bao Dai. )

b. "The Heart of a Fighter" (Môt Tam Hôn Chien Dâu), I had never believed that my friend C.H. (in Udon) would join the Resistance (in Indochina), as he had many responsibilities to his old father, to his young brothers and to his fiancee. Nevertheless, when a call for volunteers came in March (1948), he was the first to volunteer. I went to the railway station with him. I saw him say goodbye to his family. His emotions of patriotism conquered his sadness at leaving them, Comment: This is significant as an evidence that Vietnamese young men in Siam are still being recruited for the Viet Nam army in Indochina.

"Round About Udon" (Vung Quang Udon),

- (1) Some of the members are rather lukewarm in their enthusiasm and prefer to flirt around rather than come to magetings. This must be corrected.
- (2) One of our members recently married. At the marriage celebration there were some excellent patriotic speeches. But at the feast that followed, the host and guests used old-fashioned phrases of politeness which are rather out of place under present circumstances. The luxury of the feast itself was also rather unbecoming.

comment: This article was written with considerable humor.)

- "In Order to Raise our Cultural Level, We Must Study Ceaselessly (Muon De Ceaselessly (Muon De Ceaselessly ) An Toa, Fai Hoc Hoi Khong Ngung.), Our youth are generally recognized in international youth meetings as being the advance-guard of Resistance and are given a place of honor. From this point of view, our youth are to be praised; however, from a cultural point of view, they have not yet gone far enough. Some of us have a tendency to say: "Fight first; study afterwards." This is wrong; we must do both at once, as do the soldiers fighting in Indochina.
- "The People Punish Traitors" (Dan Tri Gian), In Indochina, according to an authentic document belonging to a Cochin Chinese compatriot, two persons were talking. One of them said that tranquillity might be achieved by supporting Bao Dai. The other saw at once that he was a traitor and seized an oar and killed him. He then dug a hole and buried him. Does this not show that truly there is nothing so powerful as the strength of the People?
- "Fighters on the Home Front" (Nguồi Chiến-Si Hâu-Phương). Here in Udon, the most ardent of our youth have already left for Indochina to join the Army, but others for various reasons in we been unable to do so. But they too 25X1A are showing their zeal by joining the Police(Canh Ve). These people are doing excellent work and deserve our full support.

comment: The Police referred to are not the Trinh-Sat (Secret Police). but a Vietnamese organization for the maintenance of law and order among the Vietnamese population in Siam.
